Tom,

When would be a good time for me to call you this week? The facts are fairly simple, and I think I can lay them out in a short conversation with you. As you may recall, the real barrier to making my client's claim economically viable is the intransigence of the workers' compensation subrogation interest.

By way of background, I am attaching a report from my local investigator in Pennsylvania. The heart of the investigation, however, was conducted by telephone by my investigator in Texas and his report is quite lengthy. At this point, I think I can summarize the key liability facts for you in our anticipated telephone conference. Thanks again for getting back to me and I look forward to talking to you at your convenience.. – Randy

Hi Tom,

I assume that since we never got back together that you didn't see a way that we could work together to help this poor fellow. If I waived my financial interest in the case, I still see a way that you or an attorney in Pennsylvania could make a good fee while helping the client in this case. If you are interested in handling this case by yourself or have any recommendations on an attorney I might contact in Pennsylvania for this purpose, please let me know. Thanks, and I hope all has been going well for you. --- Randy

Mr. Sheridan,

Do you have time available on Tuesday, July 8th or Wednesday, July 9th for a conference call with Mr. Roberts about this matter? If so, just let me know what time works for you (we are CST and I assume any time that you are giving me would be EST, so I will adjust that on our end accordingly) and we will call you.

Thanks,

Thanks Tom, and congratulations on your settlement. I will be out of the office on vacation this coming week but I will have Molly schedule a time for me to call you the week of July 7.
